

2024-25 Season We're A Philly Thing!

La Egoísta

Oct 4 - Oct 20, 2024

Written by Erlina Ortiz

Directed by

Tatyana-Marie Carlo

Produced in association with Tony Award-winning Edgewood Entertainment

Meet Josefina, a stand-up comedian from Philadelphia. Having dealt with the recent death of her mother, Josefina's comedy career is just taking off when her sister, Betsaida, comes down with a sudden illness. What does it mean to be an artist? A caregiver? A sister? La Egoísta is a comedy about being selfish in pursuit of your dreams, but selfless with the people you love.

Night Side Songs

Feb 21 - Mar 9, 2025

Written by The Lazours

Directed by Taibi Magar

Produced in association with the American Repertory Theater

A ground-breaking ninety-minute new musical, Night Side Songs explores the intimacy of illness, mortality, and the dignity of caregivers through the story of Yasmine Holly, a fictional character informed by interviews with real doctors, hospital staff, and patients. Night Side Songs is a musical convergence which reflects and celebrates Philly's "eds and meds" community with humor, grace, and profound empathy.

Small Ball

Jun 6 - Jun 29, 2025

Book and Lyrics by

Mickle Maher

Music by Merel van Dijk
& Anthony Barilla

Directed by Taibi Magar
& Tyler Dobrowsky

*Commissioned and Co-Produced by Philadelphia
76ers President of Basketball
Operations Daryl Morey*

Step into the surreal, magical world of Small Ball, where melancholy journeyman basketball player Michael Jordan (no, not that Michael Jordan) plays in the international league with the Lilliput Existers - as in Lilliput, from Gulliver's Travels. With teammates who are only six inches tall, the team's fortunes rest on Michael's shoulders.
